Home Patients and visitors Our hospitals Our services Our people Our trust News Charity

During your stay

What to do before you come into hospital

- Medicines
- Fasting
- Have a bath or a shower
- What you need to bring into hospital

What happens on the day of surgery

- Your arrival at hospital
- Preparation for surgery
- Going to the operating theatre

Help with fares

Accessible information standard (AIS)

Ethnicity data collection

Entitlement to NHS treatment

Dignity and respect

You and your family have the right to be treated fairly and be routinely involved in decisions about your treatment and care. You can expect to be treated with dignity and respect. You will not be discriminated against on any grounds including age, disability, gender, race, religion or belief or sexual orientation. You have a responsibility to treat other patients and our staff with dignity and respect.

Every patient has the right to receive high quality care that is safe, effective and respects their privacy and dignity. Bradford Teaching Hospitals NHS Foundation Trust is committed to providing every patient with same sex accommodation.

Sharing with members of the opposite sex will only happen by exception, based on clinical need (for example where patients need specialist equipment or care such as in our intensive care unit, coronary care unit or high dependency unit). If this is necessary we will make every effort to move you to a same sex area as soon as possible.

Coming into hospital

Adults coming into theatre

All the information you need about what happens on the day of your operation.

Visit the Introduction to theatres page

Children coming

Parent and child frienc operation.

Visit the Paediatric sur

© 2025 Bradford Teaching Hospitals NHS Foundation Trust